

Week 5: A Look at the Life to Come

Series: Created for Significance

Key Verses: Luke 16:19–31

Speaker: Dr. Justin Hardcastle

Big Idea: Eternity is real, grace is available, and the time to respond is now.

Most people plan for almost everything. But many people never seriously plan for eternity. We do not like to think about that because it feels heavy.

In Luke 16, Jesus tells a story that pulls back the curtain and gives us a look at the life to come.

Here is the question I want us to wrestle with today: If eternity is real, how should I live right now?

Jesus is not telling this story to satisfy our curiosity about the afterlife. He is telling this story to awaken our hearts.

This Life Is Temporary, But Eternity Is _____

- Read: Luke 16:19–23
- The issue is not that the rich man had money.
- His comfort had made him calloused.
- The danger of comfort is that it can make eternal things feel unreal.
- If we only live for what we can see, we will waste what matters most.

Grace Must Be Received While There Is Still _____

- Read: Luke 16:24–26

Grace Must Be Received While There Is Still _____

- Read: Luke 16:24–26

- There are two things we need to notice: (1) he is in agony, (2) even in torment, the rich man still sees Lazarus as someone beneath him. That means his circumstances have changed, but his heart still has not.
- Grace is available now, but eternity makes our response final.
- Salvation is by grace through faith in Jesus Christ.

Eternity Should Create Urgency In _____

- Read: Luke 16:27–31
- The man who had no compassion on earth suddenly has evangelistic urgency in eternity.
- All he can do is plead that someone else would warn the people he loves.
- Five minutes in eternity would change what most people value on earth.
- This story is not meant to satisfy curiosity about Heaven and Hell. It is meant to awaken us.
